VOL. IV. NO. 24. WHOLE NO. 180.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1886.

TWO DOLLARS PER YEAR.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

By our Regular and Casual Reporters and Correspondents.

The Glenwood Ave. Fire.

The Bloomfield Fire Dept. was called out at three o'clock Sunday morning to extinguish a fire which had been started by an incendiary in the factory of C. W. Powers Jr., corner of Henry and Glenwood Aves. When the department arrived upon the ground, the flames had burned through a side of the building while the interior was one mass of fire. A stream of water was directed into the building by Phoenix Hose Company, and in a few minutes the fire was under control, but not until the entire contents were charred and ruined. The first floor was stocked with foot-power saws and patent eyes and ironing boards, and the second floor contained patent clothes dryers and coats. The loss and insurance on the stock is as follows: Saws, loss $500, insurance $500; manufactured articles, loss $800, insurance $500; building was insured for $250. A quantity of up-holstery goods and tools and fixtures were also destroyed on which was no insurance. The estimated loss above insurance is about $1,000.

Knights of Pythias.

Last Tuesday evening Eureka Lodge, No. 46, K. of P., celebrated its second anniversary. Although the evening was extremely warm, the lodge room was well filled with invited guests. The exercises began with the singing of the opening ode, which was followed by an address by Supreme Vice Chancellor, Gen. Wm. Ward, of Newark. Addresses were also made by Eugene V. Lorbom, Grand Keeper of Records and Seals; John H. Hyde, D. D. G. C.; P. C. Wm. Baldwin, Rev. Mr. Egbert and others. Between the addresses recitations were given by Bros. Cadmus, Clapper, and P. C. Wm. Linder.

The musical part of the programme was one of the most enjoyable features of the entertainment, and consisted of singing by the Watsessing Glee Club, and by the Misses Leu, cornet duet by the Frank brothers and zither music by Prof. Zeplin. After these exercises were over, a collation of cream and cake was served.

New Enterprises.

Farrand street, Bloomfield, has recently been greatly improved by two new factories and a storehouse, with additional rooms for a dwelling. One factory is owned by H. & C. G. Fritz, carpenters and builders, in which they will soon have machinery for manufacturing sash, blinds, doors and for doing all kinds of sawing and planing. This partnership was consummated less than two years ago, and is now one of the busiest firms in the neighborhood. Since Jan. last they have completed twenty-one dwellings and have several now under way. Contracts for entire buildings are taken.

Removing and remodeling old buildings is also a branch of their business.

C. W. Powers, Jr., has erected a factory for Dieuzet & Magory which is being used for the manufacture of antiseptic dressing and absorbent cotton and lint. A number of hands are already employed there, and others will soon be added to the force.

The storehouse is owned by Chas. W. Martin, where feed, grain, hay and straw are stored to accommodate his increasing business at the Centre.

BLOOMFIELD BRIEF LOCALS.

The recent entertainment given by the Knight of Honor in aid of Charleston realized about fifty dollars.

Mr. E. B. Budd is erecting a new lively stable building on the site of the old hotel stables, at the Centre.

Again attention is called to the Bazaar for the benefit of the Glen Ridge Sunday School, to be held on Oct. 15th, at Library Hall.

If you want the correct style of fine Berber's and all kinds of soft hats, go to Metable's Bloomfield Hat Store, Bloomfield Ave., opposite Phoenix Hose House.

Essex Hook & Ladder Co. No. 1 have issued a neat pocket card, showing the weather signals in colors, a diagram of the fire alarm districts and a list of the members and officers.

The Upper Broad St. trap-rock roadway has been nearly completed to Osborn St., but the grading has left the sidewalk and crossings in a deplorable condition. What is going to be done about it?

A lecture entitled "A Visit to Pompeii" by Rev. E. D. Simons, is announced, under the auspices of the Piano Committee. First Baptist Church, to be given in the church on Monday evening, Oct. 4th.

Miss Brower's Thursday morning drawing classes in Miss Northall's school will begin Oct. 7, 1886. The children will be specially trained for the studio classes. Those not attending the school are at liberty to join. Terms will be three dollars for twenty lessons.

Cooper Bros. are now prepared to do electric work of all descriptions at moderate prices. Electric door and bell, burglar alarms and annunciators put up and repaired. This work is under charge of C. Cooper, who has had several years experience in its several branches.

A check for $25 was lately sent to THE CITIZEN by Mr. Jos. L. Walsh, as a contribution toward a fund to be raised for the people of Charleston. No further subscriptions having been received, the publisher has handed the check to Rev. J. M. Nardello, who will use it as a nucleus for a fund to be raised in his parish.

The Fisk University Jubilee Singers are to give a concert in Library Hall on Tuesday evening next. Lovers of music need not be told that it will be a delightful entertainment. These singers have acquired an international reputation, and ought to attract a full house. The tickets are fifty cents, no seats reserved, and are on sale at the principal stores.

A meeting of the Village Improvement Association was held Tuesday evening at the Town Committee room. Resolutions were adopted in memory of the late President of the Association, Dr. Joseph A. Davis. The East Orange Sewerage project was the chief matter of discussion, and the Association, as will be seen elsewhere by the resolutions adopted, has taken steps to protect the interests of Bloomfield.

Princeton Prohibitionists.

TO THE BLOOMFIELD CITIZEN: The opinion so prevalent a short time since, that the Prohibitionists were merely a faction of cranks, irreconcilable and impracticable, has proved upon closer acquaintance with the "genus" to have been in error, and now comes the evidence that in New Jersey, at least, the conservative and intelligent of Old Princeton, which has moulded public sentiment in our State since Revolutionary times, is again placing itself in the line. McCosh, Macloskie, Zabriskie for Prohibition, Princeton to the front. All hail! See enclosed.

E. A. S.

"Gen. Fisk was in Princeton on Wednesday afternoon. He spoke in the Rink to an audience of about 600 persons. It was predicted by the politicians of that borough that there could not be fifty persons gotten together to hear Fisk, but they were not good prophets.

"Prof. Macloskie presided. Prayer, as is usual with all Prohibition meetings, was offered by one of the college professors after which the venerable Dr. McCosh took the stand and gave in his experience in the State of Maine, and compared that Prohibition State with Princeton's loose enforcement of the license laws, saying he had seen ten thousand persons as guests at the hotels, and never saw a drunken man, while in Princeton you could scarcely walk our streets without meetings or more. But the doctor went further. He said he came to this meeting to show his sympathy of the cause, and his desire for its success, thus placing himself alongside of Dr. Macloskie and others of the Princeton faculty on the side of Prohibition.

VICINITY NOTES.

Montclair.

On Wednesday the second annual fair of the Essex Co. Agricultural Society was informally opened at the Montclair Skating Rink. All the morning the Committee, assisted by a large number of ladies and gentlemen in charge of the several departments had been hard at work receiving and arranging the exhibits and nearly everything was in order at the opening hour. The large number of exhibits indicates a lively interest in the fair; all the townships in the county and Newark is also well represented. The exhibits are divided into six classes and the tables devoted to each class are all crowded with displays. In Department A are the plants and cut flowers; Class B is the exhibits of all kinds of fruit; vegetables come in Class C; in Department D are grain, seeds and flour; in Department E is a tempting display of works of culinary art, while in Department F are the displays of fancy and art needlework, paintings, etc., together with a display of numberless Indian relics and work of children under fourteen years of age. The Essex County Insane Asylum makes a handsome display of needlework, embroidery and other handwork of the patients, at the County Fair in Montclair. These articles are sold for an amusement fund for the institution.

A report was freely circulated in Montclair that Thomas Elliot, a man employed by William H. Powers, had been thrown from a horse and instantly killed. Upon investigation it was found that he had been thrown and kicked by a horse, which he was breaking, and quite severely but not seriously hurt.

At a meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Monday afternoon Mrs. I. N. Dunby was elected President to fill vacancy.

A Prohibition meeting was held in Watsessing Monday evening. Addresses were made by Charles H. Warner, E. A. Smith and D. F. Merritt, and the Watsessing Glee Club furnished music.

Orange.

Delegates from the several labor organizations met in Hatters' hall, with M. J. McKiernan in the chair, to consider the question of forming a Central Union in Orange. It was decided that the delegates report back to their associations in favor of such an organization, and report a month hence.

The questions of how the street lamps in the city shall be lighted, and by what company, are still open ones. There were a score of representatives of the six companies, who had propositions before the Aldermen, Tuesday evening, and each were striving to buttonhole all the Aldermen at one time. At 8 o'clock the Mayor and all the Aldermen retired to the Mayor's room, where they opened the bids and remained in executive session until 9:30 o'clock. Then they met, ordered a few bills paid, and adjourned.

Livingston.

—Ex-Sheriff Andrew Toed died at his home, in Livingston, on Tuesday, after a lingering illness, from consumption, although he was only seriously ill for the last four or five days. He was one of the old residents of the county, and had been identified with its interests and that of the township in which he lived for many years. He had served in the Town Committee and the County Freeholders, was a member of the Legislature in 1875 and Sheriff of Essex county for four years.

East Orange.

—About 4 o'clock Tuesday morning burglars attempted to enter a house on Prospect St., owned by J. L. Roberts, and occupied, except by a young man who is in charge of the premises. The thieves were at work cutting away the woodwork about the lock of a side door, when the young man awakened and frightened the thieves away.

Newark.

—The Republican City Convention will be held at Library Hall next Monday evening.

—Secretary Tombs, of the old Thirtieth Regiment, has received a number of subscriptions toward increasing the amount donated by the State of New Jersey to erect a monument at Gettysburg. The fund of the Thirtieth amounts already to about six hundred dollars, and it is expected to increase the amount to at least one thousand dollars in addition to the money received from the State. At the meeting at Orange, on October 13th, it is expected that full reports of all the committees will be made.

—The case of Clarence W. Butler vs. Erich Bagstrom was given to the jury in the Circuit Court Thursday. It is a case that is exciting a great deal of interest among horsemen all over the county as it involves the question of responsibility of those in charge of horses in driving along the roads of the county at night. This is a suit for running into and killing a horse belonging to the plaintiff that was in charge of a Mr. Tuers, who was driving along Elm Street, Montclair, at night. The defense is that Bagstrom was not on Mr. Tuers' side of the road; that he was using due care, and that the injury to the horse was an accident that could not be avoided.

—The Republican campaign was formally opened Monday night, in the Thirtieth ward, by the dedication of Fremont Hall, on Waverley place, at which addresses were made by Senator Fish, Congressman Lehighach, Frederick Kahn and others. The meeting was a large and enthusiastic one, and notwithstanding the hot weather the hall was crowded. Every allusion to Lincoln, Fremont, or the record of the Republican party on the question of Protectionism was loudly applauded, and when Senator Fish made an eloquent allusion to Mr. James G. Blaine as the next candidate for President, he was greeted with a storm of applause that drowned his voice, and only died away to break out anew when he attempted to resume. Although the night was an intensely hot one, and the programme was long, the audience remained all through, and manifested the most intense enthusiasm. Weber's Band occupied the balcony on the front of the building, before the meeting opened, and discoursed patriotic airs, and after the meeting opened they were stationed in the gallery at the rear of the hall. The hall was tastefully decorated with flags and banners.

Dr. Edward Aveling, who recently came to this country for the purpose of preaching Socialism to the masses, addressed a fair audience of workmen, Sunday afternoon, in Saenger Hall. He declared that Socialism was not only a science, but the only religion worth preaching. He referred to the Revolution and late Rebellion as memorable events in this country, and said that the third great question which demands solution is the question of whether wage-slavery shall come to an end, as did chattel slavery as a result of the Rebellion. He protested against the American custom of classing Socialists as foreigners. Socialism gives consolation for the present and hope for the future. Anarchy, confusion and the despair of the present are dispelled by the religion of Socialism. People, he claimed, consider Socialism a wild dream, but it is a genuine science.

A Business Index.

The new issue of this office a "Business Index" of Essex county, which will first appear in the regular edition of THE CITIZEN, and subsequently reproduced upon heavy cardboard and a copy supplied to each subscriber. In addition, the cards will be hung up for ready reference in the most public places. Mr. James H. Bartlett will have charge of the work and employ trustworthy assistants. He is a gentleman who has excellent references from other publishers, and we believe that all his promises will be kept. We ask our friends to give him a liberal patronage.

Mullins & Co. Still Ahead.

Energy, pluck, experience and tact, backed up by the necessary capital, are essential to the successful career of prosperous business men. He who possesses these qualifications in their fullest must necessarily succeed in overcoming every obstacle. He will take the foremost rank and cannot easily be driven back from that position, come what may. This, in brief, is the story of Mullins & Co., Manufacturers and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Furniture, Carpets, etc., 218 and 220 Market St., Newark. People marvel how it was that this firm were awarded all the first premiums—the chief prizes offered in their line of business, at the recent fair of the New Jersey State Agricultural Society held in Waverly. But are not Mullins & Co. wide awake, thorough-going business men who are alive to the wants of the people and know exactly what the public requirements demand and who spare no pains to supply such demands? It is because they aim to give the best value for the lowest possible prices that they succeed where so many others fail. They manufacture their own furniture and see to it that only the best material is used. The three silver medals awarded by the judges were for "the Best Furniture Manufactured in this State" and the diploma was for the excellence of their Carpets, both Foreign and American. Mr. John Mullins, chief of the firm, owns the leading furniture and carpet stores in Jersey City, Paterson, and Brooklyn. Goods are sold on "special credit," without extra charge, when the customer so desires. Institutions and churches liberally dealt with. Mullins & Co. are deserving of the confidence of the public, and their large and prosperous business is a tribute to fair dealing, neatness, energy, and business tact, which have characterized their career.
